WirtschaftsWoche Names müller co-ax gmbh Worldwide Market Leader for Fifth Year in a Row

- Five years in a row: WirtschaftsWoche names müller co-ax gmbh a worldwide market leader.
- At the top: leader in the categories of coaxial valve technology and high pressure valves.
- Basis for the honor: World Market Leader Index of the University of St. Gallen and the ADWM.
- Market leader: recognition of innovation and global leadership in the valve industry.

müller coax gmbh is named a world market leader by the renowned business magazine WirtschaftsWoche for the fifth time in a row. The company is an industry leader in the categories of coaxial valve technology and high-pressure valves.

WirtschaftsWoche has once again named the corporate group, which includes müller co-ax gmbh, m-tech gmbh, and müller quadax gmbh, as a global market leader. The report by the renowned business magazine was published at the beginning of November in a special edition. It once again underlines the companies' consistent innovation and technology leadership and their economic significance in the coaxial valve technology and high-pressure fittings segment worldwide.

The basis for the list of German world market leaders is the World Market Leader Index of the University of St. Gallen and the Academy of German World Market Leaders (ADWM). Researchers scientifically evaluate a wide range of data about the various entrants. A continuously updated database with currently around 1,300 entries of potential world market leaders is used as a basis. Almost 520 companies made the list, meeting the strict criteria set by a research team. The title "World Market Leader Champions" is awarded to companies that are either ranked first or second in their relevant market segment. The companies under consideration must be represented on at least three continents with their own production or distribution companies, generate annual sales of at least €50 million, and export at least 50% of their sales. Another decisive criterion for the "World Market Leader Champion" award is (owner) management with a minimum of 50% of the headquarters in the DACH region.
